THE CHANCELLOR

BISHOP'S

FOREWORD

TO THE CLASS OF 1933

You are about to say farewell to your Alma Mater; to quit the halls of her home, that has been your home for, at least, three years. Those years have now passed into what has been called the "discard of time", and have become for you a part of that sometimes clouded, but, withal, valuable thing called "history". Whatever different emotions may be individually and respectively awakened by the parting, there is one that I am sure will be common to you all, and that is, a deep sense of gratitude to your University. Apart entirely from, and perhaps better than all the knowledge you have gained by your studies here, you have been thrown into intimate residential association with your fellow students; you have learned to respect the opinion of others, although differing with yours; you have realized that there is such a thing as give and take which must enter into the life of every man; you have lived in a bright and beautiful environment; you have been guided and taught by eminent teachers, ever thoughtful of your interests and devoted to your welfare; you have had the opportunity of forming an individuality and a character that will last throughout your lives.

Your course of studies leading up to the degree which you will soon receive, has been selected with great care and after much consideration, and is eminently a practical, cultural course which should, and will, fit you to face the difficulties and perplexities of your life's work, and enable you to reach, at least, a measure of success, which otherwise would never have been accomplished.

I beg of each of you, if you take nothing else when you receive the hood of your University, to take with you a loyal affection for your Alma Mater; for your Teachers who have done so much (even at much sacrifice) for you and each of you. You are going into a comparatively unknown, and, perhaps, altogether untried world. Never in the history of this University, or of any other, has a graduating class gone out to meet just such a world as we have to-day. To say that it is a world of chaos, is to put it mildly. What has been the dominant cause, or, as we say in law, the causa causans of this present condition, far be it from me to venture an opinion. With less certainty could I venture to affirm a remedy. If ever the world called loudly for trained, educated, sane and sensible young men, the present is the time. I am not a pessimist. The world will right itself.

If I were attempting to give you advice, I should in part say: Cultivate a spirit of kindness; refrain from unkind criticism of your fellowmen. "A rose to the living is worth wreaths to the dead". All of which means, that a few words of kindly approval, a little help to the lame dog over the stile, a little praise and less unkindly criticism, is much better than columns of post-mortem eulogy. Preserve a fond and loving memory of your Alma Mater; hold her in generous, loyal remembrance. Lose no opportunity to aid and assist her. Be loyal citizens of the country in which your lot is cast; respect the law; obey the law, even if you are of the opinion that the law is wrong. Accept from me the assurance that any man who breaks a law, however unpopular, however obnoxious it may be, has less respect for himself, and less respect for law generally.

I express in conclusion, in fullest measure, sincere good wishes for your future success in life in whatever walk your lot may be cast.

R. L. F. Fennishields

BISHOP'S 1933 is the old Year Book under a new name, in a new dress, and under a new sponsor,—THE MITRE, who took it in and adopted it. The Committee who dreamed of BISHOP'S 1933, who planned it, and who made it, are more than a little pleased with the results of their dreaming, planning, and making. But they are all too conscious of the book's many great lacks and faults.

The old Year Book was good enough to carry on with until the University became used to having a book to sum up and commemorate the activities and the persons of the college year. BISHOP'S 1933 attempts to do more than this. It has tried to treat every activity and society briefly, kindly and candidly from an interested and unbiased viewpoint. The old habit of handing out laurels with a prodigal lack of discrimination has been stopped. If a society has been through a dull routine of activities, it has not been said to have "enjoyed the most successful year in its long and useful life".

Of the many faults, the absence of a humour section of any sort, such as adorn Torontonensis, Old McGill, and other great University Year Books, is the most grievous. Give the University a humourist, a capable caricaturist, a designer, or even a few more enthusiasts who will work with the BISHOP'S Committee and the book will have its humour section.

The BISHOP'S 1933 Committee is modest. They are proud of the book and pleased with themselves. But they know that the book is a corporate effort—some dreamed, others criticized, others slogged. All worked.

CHAUCER, PROLOGUE

THE REV. R. H. WATERMAN, L.S.T.

R. H. Waterman entered Bishop's in the Michaelmas Term, 1911. He was a very tall, thin lad with fine clear eyes, an alert expression and an ingenuous smile. He speedily became popular and was known as "string". The reason for this was obvious. In this year of grace he weighs over two hundred pounds and carries his height like an Archbishop, assuming that such a dignitary were six feet three inches in stature. So far he may not even be a Rural Dean, but he is certainly the well-beloved rector of an important town parish in the diocese of Ottawa.

A course in mathematics is not a bad preparation for theological study. Its cultural content may not be so great as a course in Classics, or English, but it does teach one to think. Nor is there any reason to doubt that his mathematical training enabled Mr. Waterman to master with ease the complexities which underlie the simplicity of the Christian Faith as also to acquire a working knowledge of its sacred languages. This facility distinguished him both in his L.S.T. course (1920) and in his later studies. With many of his fellow students he enlisted as a private in the 5th C. M. R. (February 1915), and saw continuous active service until the close of the war. That experience has left many a poor fellow a physical and moral wreck, but it found Harold Waterman a boy and left him a man with a high, strong purpose in life. During his ministry Mr. Waterman has had two charges, Bear Brook, (1920-27) and Pembroke (1927) which he still retains. Mr. Waterman is the son of that knight errant of the Catholic Faith in the Canadian Church, the Rev. Canon R. B. Waterman.

"Tom" Jarvis graduated in 1928, and re-appears after five years to take his B.D.

He was born in Ontario, but received part of his education in Prince Edward Island, before proceeding to Lakefield. He had three years of journalistic experience on the editorial staff of the Montreal Gazette before he decided to take orders, and entered the Divinity Faculty of Bishop's University in 1926. He took the L.S.T. course and won various University and Inter-University honours, such as the Harrison and Long Prizes, the R. V. Harris Inter-University essay prize, and the Confederation Gold Medal. He obtained first class honours in the L.S.T., and gave the valedictory address; in spite of this, he came back the next year to take some preparatory work for the B. D.

During his period in College he was Secretary-Treasurer for the Literary and Debating Society, and later on, Editor of THE MITRE.

He debated frequently on inter-faculty and inter-university teams; and he was a prominent figure in the meetings of the Student Association, and in the political activities from which the student body suffered at that time. He acted for the Dramatic Society in 1926, and for the Bishop's University Players in 1929; he was Business Manager of the latter when it took three plays to the Little Theatre at Ottawa.

He was ordained deacon in 1928 by the Bishop of Ottawa, and during that year took temporary work at St. Bartholomew's, Ottawa, and St. Paul's, Almonte. He was ordained priest in 1929, and was appointed priest in charge of the mission of Pettawawa, and Chaplain to the Military Camp there, a position which he has retained every since. In the intervals of parochial labours he has worked for his B.D., which he completed in 1932, taking first class honours in Dogmatics and Liturgiology.

'C. BEDE.' VERDANT GREEN, I, IV.

EVELYN RICHARDSON AUSTIN, B.A.

Last year, these pages recorded the fact that "Chev's" future was to be denoted by a dash and an exclamation point. The first year of that future, as we have just witnessed it, must intrinsically merit at least one dashed good exclamation mark. "Chev" has been keeping company with Plato and Aristotle, along certain prescribed lines as laid down in the course for M.A. in Philosophy. This is material for thought. At this time, it would be a gross underestimation of values to apply that old saw "A penny for your thoughts", when desiring to awaken "Chev" from a brown study. Essentially, the phrase would have to be adapted to the conditions. One would be constrained to say: "Twenty-five cents for your thoughts", and specify that the amount was to be payable at par.

Even philosophers, however, must stop thinking for part of the time. Relaxation is a universal necessity. On numerous occasions, therefore, we have been pleasantly surprised to see "Chev" burst into our midst to take part in basketball, or to throw snow-balls during a sleigh ride, or otherwise to take part in and add to the laughter and merriment which are indispensable to college life.

"Chev's" immediate future is still unsettled. We recommend that you add two ampersands and a few asterisks after our former prognostication.

HELEN LOVITT WADDINGTON, B.A.

Helen Waddington, (nee Wickwire), is one of the least known of this year's graduating class. Several people admit having seen her from time to time either in Professor Raymond's or in Professor Burt's classes; and the fact that she is taking her M.A. in English with Philosophy as a minor seems to indicate that the allegations are correct.

Mrs. Waddington was born in Kentville, Nova Scotia. There she attended public and high schools and finally entered Shirreff Hall, Dalhousie University, where she got her Bachelor's degree in 1927. With her degree she also qualified for a Superior First Rank University Teacher-Training Diploma. Armed with this she assailed the stronghold of education, Toronto, and for four years taught little girls and big girls at Bishop Strachan's School.

Then, on June 30th, 1931, she married Norval R. Waddington, Headmaster, Preparatory School, B.C.S. And although more important duties have kept Mrs. Waddington from taking part in all the College activities, she has shown a practical interest (coffee, toast, cake and such), in the work of the undergraduates on many memorable occasions.

We are sorry that Bishop's cannot offer a doctorate. It is good for a college to have a mystery; and if Mrs. Waddington were reading for her doctorate, she would continue to mystify unwitting undergrads with her haphazard goings and comings about the New Arts Building.

CHAUCER, PROLOGUE.

JOHN SOMERSET AIKINS

John has the double honour of being the baby of the 1933 graduates and the Senior Student of the University. His career before coming to Bishop's at the Michaelmas term of 1930 is as interesting as his career at the University. But both must be compressed.

He was born at Naramata, B.C., in February 1914; attended Kingsley School, Vancouver; travelled up and down the country; and finally settled at Bishop's to begin a breath-taking course of accomplishments and honours. He won the Robert Bruce Intermediate Scholarship in his first year; the John Smith Prize in Economics, and qualified for Honours in Philosophy by obtaining a first class aggregate in his second year. That is his academic record and the results of his third year are not decided yet.

In athletics and student activities generally the record is equally splendid. He played Intermediate rugby and got his B; he played Inter-year basketball and hockey. He has been Secretary of THE MITRE, President of the Debating Society, and in his final year President of the Students' Council with its Pooh-Bah-like multiplicity of positions and responsibilities. In all these offices John has distinguished himself by keeping a very sound head on none too large shoulders and by remaining ever ready to serve or cadge a cup of tea and to worry over the affairs of the world like an ordinary man. But honours are not to John. His greatest pride is that he was parent and accoucheur of The Stump, a more than pink political group; and that he was counsel and deviser of the new BISHOP'S 1933.

John goes to Lincoln College, Oxford, next October to study International Law. We needn't wish him good luck; he doesn't need it.

MILTON ERELE ARMSTRONG

Among the freshmen who registered at Bishop's in the fall of 1930 with the view of increasing their knowledge and acquiring the traditional "sheepskin" was one, "Army". Before his arrival he had developed into an indefatigable talker, besides being a critic and somewhat of a cynic. "Army" will always stick to his convictions, so it is practically impossible to beat him in an argument—an asset for a prospective lawyer.

Although "Army" took part in no major athletics he has always turned out to support his year in the Inter-year competitions. On the rugby field he proved to be a capable outside wing, in hockey he acted as manager for Arts '33. There is one sport in which "Army" is well nigh invincible, however, and that is badminton. Besides being President of the club and probably the best player in college, he has done his utmost to promote an interest in the game by getting people out to play. For the betterment of the student finances he willingly suffered two long years in the ranks of the C.O.T.C. During his first two years he attempted to raise the Chess Club from its long lethargy—a brave effort.

Throughout his stay at Bishop's "Army" has been exceptionally interested in debating. He served as Secretary in his second year; in the Mock Trial, as chicken inspector; floor leader for the Opposition and co-editor of the Deoderant in the Mock Parliament. In his last year he was the Chief delegate from Egypt in the "Beer Conference".

Next year "Army" is going to Osgoode Hall. From the characteristics he has shown during his stay here he has chosen the profession to which he is best suited.

JOHN IRVING BENSON

Bennie was born in Pembroke, Ontario, on April 17th, 1912. After a troubled, but pleasant life in the schools of Pembroke, he came to Lennoxville, to join the ranks of those in search of knowledge and pleasure. Quietly and unassumingly, he proceeded to find both. In his first year, he says, he spent a quiet life. In athletics, he played Junior rugby and Intermediate basketball. As a military diversion, he joined the ranks of the O.T.C., having heard news of several dances. His leisure time was spent in the usual manner, in exploring the highways and byways of Sherbrooke with the Musty Steers and in attempting to deal with Latin, which was a relic of earlier student days.

The next year, having managed to scrape through, he arrived back. He again played Junior rugby, and Inter-year basketball, and rejoined the O.T.C. Also, he devoted some time to assisting the Reading Circle, and some to the celebration of certain prominent Saints' days.

This year, Bennie became busy for a time. He successfully directed a one-act play, "The Monkey's Paw". He became Vice-President of the Dramatic Society, Alumni Editor of THE MITRE and represented his year on the Year Book committee. However, owing to certain academic deficiencies he was forced to abdicate from these positions. After this, he devoted his spare time to work, but served in an advisory capacity to the Reading Circle. In the O.T.C., he paraded with the band, since it took him two years to discover that the drill in that unit is shorter, and less exacting. Comprising, in himself, the entire History English class, he will graduate with it.

As to next year and after, he is undecided. The future, he is afraid, rests with the gods, and cannot be foretold. Whatever it may be, we wish him luck.

WILLIAM BARKER BRADLEY

Bill was born in Sherbrooke on December 18th, 1912. He received his preparatory education at Sherbrooke High School and entered Bishop's as a freshman in the fall of 1931. In his first year he turned out for football and played in the backfield for the Junior team. In his second year Bill was again conspicuous on the football field; his ability as a player was fully recognized and he was given the position of quarterback on the Intermediate team, a position which he filled with great credit again this year. His thorough knowledge of football and his steady playing ability will make him a hard man to replace next year. Bill has also devoted much attention to basketball and has represented his College in that sport for two years. Due to an inordinate, and scarcely understandable, desire to master the Classics he was unable to play basketball this year. His other athletic accomplishments include badminton, golf, tennis and hockey. In the latter sport he has distinguished himself as a defense-man on the Arts '33 team.

Bill has always taken a keen interest in Debating and has found an outlet for his military aspirations in two years service in the O.T.C. It came as no surprise when Bill was elected Vice-President of the Students' Council and Students' Association, an office which he filled very competently.

No one (including Bill himself), is sure what the future holds in store. It is highly probable, however, that next year will find him studying Law at McGill. Whatever he does we all wish him the best of luck and are sure that he will be a success.

RUSSEL FEATHERSTONE BROWN

Six days after the birth of the twentieth century, Newcastle-on-Tyne, England, beheld the birth of Russel Brown—our “man of the century”. Russ received a private school education in England, which he later supplemented in Montreal at the Strathcona Academy and Montreal High School. Before coming to join us at Bishop's, Russ spent thirteen years in the insurance business. Whenever it's a question of policy, therefore, we consult Russel.

Russ came to Bishop's in the Fall of '29. In '30-'31, the Literary and Debating Society enjoyed one of its most successful seasons under his direction as President. The following year, Russel was elected by acclamation as President of the Students' Association. In that capacity, he more than justified the confidence which had been placed in him, and established a record which succeeding Presidents may equal only by the most diligent effort.

Besides having to divide his spare time between the Students' Executive Council and committees without number, Russ was elected repeatedly to represent his Faculty and his University in the formal Debates in Convocation Hall. In the Mock Parliament two years ago, he occupied the Speaker's Chair, and at this year's Mock International Conference was the leading English delegate.

Add to all the above the fact that Russ has also taken part in the annual road races, in inter-house rugby and basketball, and you still have a very incomplete list of all the activities in which he engaged. Yet, when asked for an account of those activities for the present write-up, he submitted but two lines—consisting of not more than ten words!

Russel completes his course for the B.A. in Theology this June. He hopes to be ordained to the diaconate this coming Trinity-tide, and to begin his ministry in Montreal. When he leaves us, he will take with him the sincerest best wishes that ever followed a graduate from this University.

DUNCAN MCGREGOR CAMPBELL

On December 31st, 1912, in the misty sea-board town of Yarmouth, N.S., this young man was ushered into the mysteries and pleasantness of the world. Shortly afterwards, however, he made a trip to Sherbrooke and it so pleased him that the fair city became his home for several years.

In this city too, he spent his first years under the “stern preceptor's eye”. Then moving to the suburban beauties of Lennoxville he graduated from the High School in 1930, carrying off the Jasper Nicoll scholarship.

His insatiable zeal for deeper knowledge of analytic functions and other mathematical mysteries lead him to take the Maths. option course.

For three years he wore the C.O.T.C. uniform on various Friday afternoons, during which time he added a few humorous moments to the sordid routine.

The Maths. and Science Club, the Chess Club and the Inter-year basketball team have claimed him as one of their representatives.

We are glad to say that he is not leaving us this year as he plans to come back again next year for his M.A. and very likely to take the High School Diploma.

WILLIAM ROBERT CRUMMER

Crum is shortly to leave us, and with his departure with the class of '33 these sacred halls will lose one of their most distinctive personalities—and we will perforce say au revoir to one whose friendship we cherish.

He first tasted college life at Queen's some years ago. Why Queen's was unable to hold this very desirable student we know not; suffice it to state that he left Kingston after completing his first year in Arts and took up school-teaching in Ottawa. Queen's loss was our gain for when, six years later, Crum again cast his eyes ad universitates he chose Bishop's as his Alma Mater.

During his stay here Crum has taken a quiet but effective part in college activities. It was not unnatural that one with his literary ability should have lent his aid to the Mitre Board. On more than one occasion he shouldered the responsibilities of Editor-in-Chief and two issues of THE MITRE during the past year were published under his able direction. THE MITRE, however, was not alone in claiming his attention; as an embryo parson he exhibited a natural interest in dialectics and he supported his Faculty with considerable skill in the Annual Inter-Faculty Debating series.

His studious temperament marked him out early as an Honours man and it is a source of great satisfaction to us to learn that on leaving Bishop's he will probably undertake post-graduate New Testament studies at the General Theological Seminary, New York.

Crum graduates from Bishop's with a B.A. (Theology) New Testament Honours, and he expects to be ordained Deacon by the Archbishop of Ottawa this coming Trinity-tide. Our best wishes go with him.

FREDERICK DIXON DOUGLAS, L.S.T.

Fred was born in Glasgow, Scotland; when, he doesn't say. He came to Canada at another unknown date where he entered Bishop's in the autumn of 1921, the first known date in his history, to read theology.

While he was here in those far-off, hearty days, he represented his faculty in debates. He even admits to belonging to the O.T.C. for three years; but there wasn't so much militant pacifism abroad in those days. These two activities seem to have filled up Fred's off-hours very well; they are the only two he mentions.

He was ordained to the diaconate in 1927 and since then has done parish work in the dioceses of Fredericton and Ontario. But the call of Bishop's and higher learning proved too strong and last fall he returned to read philosophy and complete his Arts' degree.

Of the future, Fred merely says that he hopes to continue his ministry in the church.

RICHARD J. C. EVANS

Dick was born in Winnipeg, Manitoba, but soon after he first saw the light of day he removed to St. John, New Brunswick, where he spent the best part of his youth. There it was, too, that his education began; but soon after he had finished Grammar School, the family moved once more, and Dick attended High School at Sherbrooke, P.Q. In all the schools that he attended Dick was very active in scholastic sports and during the years that he spent at the Sherbrooke High he represented his school in rugby and hockey. Toward the end of school he took up track, too, and made a success as a first-class quarter-miler.

With the completion of his High School in 1930 Dick came to Bishop's as a day student and here settled down to three more years of labour. For all the three years that he has been with us Dick represented the College in major football and hockey, took an active part in the C.O.T.C. and at the same time managed to get in a little golf. These activities along with a science course have helped the three years to pass all too quickly. The major part of Dick's studious moments have been devoted to Science, and this year he graduates with a Science B.A. His ambitions, too, seem to follow the same lines and we hear that Dick wants to pattern his career after the ideas that he learned here.

After graduation Dick will not return to the college for further studies. Rather he will seek an outlet for all his new-found knowledge in one of the many paper mills that are dotted over this country. Here's hoping that all will turn out for the best as you go along, Dick.

JOHN FRANCIS STEWART FORD

Jack was born at Glenford, Que., on June 9th, 1907. Portneuf Model School, Three Rivers High School, and Sherbrooke High School all had a hand in shaping Jack's preliminary education before he came to Bishop's in the autumn of '29.

In his first year, Jack, like most of us, was beguiled into accepting a private's duties in the C.O.T.C. In addition to these military pursuits, Jack engaged in the activities of the Men's Glee Club, was among the Dunn Cup winners in the annual road races, represented his faculty and his University in debating, and was Secretary of THE MITRE.

The following year, Jack again participated in the road races, performed very ably in the One-Act plays produced by the Dramatic Society, became the Alumni Editor of THE MITRE, and the Secretary of the Literary and Debating Society. The latter again requisitioned his services in Inter-university Debating.

The year '31-'32, Jack, in response to an urgent need for a competent instructor on the Labrador Coast, postponed temporarily his educational pursuits at Bishop's, and spent a whole summer and winter in the vicinity of Harrington Harbour.

Returning to us once more this year, Jack resumed his former activities. He applied himself with his former zeal to the road races and to Inter-faculty and Inter-university debating. In addition, he was Business Manager of the Dramatic Society, and, in turn, assistant editor and editor-in-chief on the Mitre Board. In the annual elections in March of this year, the Students' Association accorded due recognition of Jack's work on the Mitre Board by electing him as next year's President of the Board. Jack will be returning next year to take up work leading to ordination into the diaconate and to subsequent priesthood. Good luck to you, Jack, from your class-mates of '32.

WALLACE JOHN W. HODGINS

Wallie was born in Shawville, Quebec, in 1911, and, having assimilated enough knowledge at the Shawville High School, he proceeded to Lennoxville, in search of higher education.

In the term 1930-31 he played Junior hockey and Inter-year basketball, besides dealing with his academic pursuits in a quiet, but effectual manner. The next year he progressed, both in academic and athletic life. He became Assistant Manager for football to the efficient Mr. Dickson, carrying out the duties of that arduous and unremunerative position successfully. In hockey he made a visible progress, being on the Intermediate Intercollegiate Championship team of that year. Also he played Inter-year rugby, and led the Arts '33 rugby team to victory. This year he joined the ranks of the College Militia in the capacity of drummer. Whether this move was due to his desire to make music or to listen to it, three times a year, we cannot say; he will not tell us.

This year, Wallie has done even more. He has been a popular and efficient rugby manager—he was elected by acclamation last spring. He served with distinction on the Students' Executive Council, and on the Athletic Committee, of which he was chairman. He again played Intermediate hockey, and earned his letter this year. He also moved in Dramatic circles, and lent invaluable aid to the untangling of those mysteries back-stage. He became a member of the O.T.C., this time as a private—he wanted more information on the working of the Corps, no doubt. In fact, he has carried out all his duties well. And, last, but by no means least, he will graduate with the History-Philosophy Class.

Next year, Wallie intends to go to McGill to study the profession of Dentistry. We wish him good luck in his future work.

IAN KNOWLTON HUME

"He doth bestride the narrow world like a Colossus".

Ian comes to us from the little town of Waterloo where he first blinked his dazzled eyes on the 20th of August, away back in '14, and immediately the war began. As he was too immature to take an active part, Ian contented himself with an active scholastic life at Waterloo High School where he won a name for himself in the realm of sport by his remarkable high jumping.

Then the Narcissa Farrand Scholarship induced him to come to Bishop's and enter into the struggle for the "Rabbit's Skin", and Ian does seem to be getting somewhere too.

His life at Bishop's has been one of strenuous and untiring activity, in which there is no sport which he has overlooked. He played Inter-year rugby in '31 and '32 and Inter-year hockey in each of his three years here. This year he made the position of "sub" on the Intermediate basketball team. In minor athletics, golf, checkers and road racing, interest him particularly.

He has also been an ardent supporter for two years of the Bishop's crack Regiment, the O.T.C.

In spite of all these activities Ian has found time for a little work on the side, and is trying to satisfy his thirst for practical knowledge through the means of a French and Latin Option Course.

As for the future Ian is quite undecided, but, since he has received no offers which he considers worthy of his attention, he says that he expects to be back with us next year to take the High School Diploma, providing the 1934 crop of co-eds is up to his expectations. Yes, we are expecting big things of Ian.

RALPH TRENHOLME McHARG

Ralph was born at Coaticook, Que., May 23rd, 1909. His early education was received at Coaticook, Waterville, and Sherbrooke High Schools. After graduating from Sherbrooke High in 1927, Ralph worked for two years with the Bank of Commerce before coming to Bishop's to read for an Arts degree. Although enrolled as a Day Student he was nevertheless interested and active in college activities. In his first two years he played on the Inter-year rugby and hockey teams, helping his class in '31-'32 to win the Inter-year championship in rugby. Ralph's keenest interest, however, has been in the C.O.T.C., of which he has been a faithful member during his stay at Bishop's. In his last year he wrote the War Office examination for the "A" certificate, which will, if he is successful in passing the examination, entitle him to a commission. Ralph graduates this year with a B.A. degree. He hopes to return to Bishop's next year to take the High School Diploma course, though the teaching profession is evidently not his ultimate goal. Medicine or dentistry is the profession to which he aspires and with this end in view he hopes after a few years to study at McGill University. We wish him good luck and success in whatever profession he chooses.

JOSEPH SYDNEY McHARG

Following two brothers and a sister to Bishop's in September 1930, Syd joined the class of Arts '33 in quest of a B.A. Born on May Day, 1912, at Coaticook, he was packed off to Coaticook High School for his first schooling. Then on moving to Sherbrooke he attended Cambridge School and Sherbrooke High School.

Such was his history prior to entering Bishop's. Since then Syd has distinguished himself athletically and scholastically. Last year he won the Robert Bruce Scholarship and this year has shown what a glutton he is for punishment by deciding in favour of Stubb's Select Charters and the History Option for his year's work.

In athletics Sydney specialized in hockey. He played on the Junior team in 1931 and the Intermediate Intercollegiate Provincial Championship Team of 1932, and this year, unfortunately, a late return and sickness kept him off the ice. He also played football and starred at half for the Champion Second Year team in 1932. In the spring, besides working, he plays a good game of tennis.

The O.T.C. has claimed him for its own during his three years here, and his efficiency had its reward when in his second year he was promoted to corporal. This year to display his versatility he changed to the band, demonstrating his prowess as a bugler.

Syd's biography, however, need not be regarded as complete for next year's Year Book should see another chapter added in the High School Diploma section. Nevertheless teaching is not his main ambition and a few years more will probably see him emerging from some school of dentistry in search of victims. But, whatever Syd's ultimate profession, here's wishing him every success.

REGINALD ERIC OSBORNE

Reginald Eric Osborne entered activities at Fitzroy Harbour, Ontario, in 1908. He passed through the dormant stage at Brockville Collegiate and proceeded to Bishop's, whence he emerges this year to enter the ministry of the Church.

During the period of metamorphosis at Bishop's, Eric has been far from passive. He boasts that he has lived in every dormitory at the college, but it is now the shed which can best vouch for his activity. His endurance is illustrated by his two years service in the C.O.T.C. and his struggles with Inter-faculty rugby. We note with pleasure his tendency towards literary pursuits but on closer inspection we discover that his activity in this sphere is chiefly financial. He served as advertising manager of THE MITRE for two years and this year he is the President. In this connection he is also a member of the Students' Council. On the Year Book Committee he was business manager last year and is now the chairman. Dramatics also claimed the service of this financial genius and made him business manager in 1929-30. Eric has debated in every possible combination. Inter-faculty, inter-university, and N.F.C.U.S. debates have all appeared on his programme in the last two years.

Do you remember an ancient but nevertheless honourable major who sportingly left his fate to be decided by a pack of cards? The said major was a property of "The Missing Card" but turned out to be none other than Eric. Have you met the popular "Senior Divine" of the year? Eric again. But the role in which his friends will be most pleased to see him and in which he will without doubt be the most successful is the one which he has chosen for his career and which he now assumes. May the best of fortune attend Eric in his work.

SAMUEL G. RUDNER

Just in case you return to college some night and find two identical editions of Sam asking you how you feel—don't go and swear off forever. It so happened that Sam is twins. (But should you ever see four of him, our advice is to stick to Coca-Cola). Sam (and, of course, his twin brother), was born in Montreal on the 27th of February, 1909. He was educated at Bancroft Public School and at Baron Byng High. He has attended Bishop's during the academic sessions '28-'29, '29-'30, and '32-'33.

In his first year, Sam participated in Inter-house rugby, and was a member of the Eastern Townships Championship Basketball team. The next year, he was a member of the Junior Rugby team, and captain of the Intermediate Basketball team. This team won the Provincial Championship. In his third year, Sam was again on a championship team—again the Eastern Townships Basketball Champions. In addition, he was called upon to fulfil the duties of acting-manager of the team. Sam's has been a real basketball career.

In spite of this extensive athletic programme, however, Sam has not overlooked the fact that a college is a place for work as well as play. In his second year, he took a first class aggregate prize. This year, he is taking Philosophy Honours, and, in accordance with the revised course, is compiling a thesis entitled: "Money, Credit, and Banking".

As to the immediate future, Sam has not yet decided whether he will read extra murally for an M.A. from Bishop's, or whether he will enter at once upon a course in Law at the University of Montreal. In any case—the best of luck to you, Sam.

SIDNEY EDGAR ALBAN SHERRELL

What might be termed the primary event in "Shag's" life took place in Ipswich, Suffolk, England, on September 22nd, 1909. His first marks in Reading, Arithmetic, et al., were added up and entered in the report forms by the teaching staff of St. John's School, Leatherhead, Surrey.

He entered Bishop's in September, 1930. The history of his activities while here is one of a gradual and consistent rising through the ranks—first of the O.T.C. and then of the Dramatic Society. In his first year, he was included among the cast of the one-act plays; in his second, he was a member of the Dramatic Executive; this year, he was President of the Society. He threw in Inter-year rugby as an extra to help make his second year more interesting.

This year, academically speaking, "Shag" is taking Honours in Classics. For the benefit of those who are unaware of such things (meaning you and you), the Classics are mostly concerned with Latin and Greek manuscripts in the original. Curiously enough "Shag" still loves the Classics.

"Shag's" future, according to his own forecast, will be wrapt up with the welfare of countless school children. And anyone who gets wrapt up in this sort of work has to be a good man—otherwise, he'll smother. "Please, teacher, I've brought you an apple!"

ROBERT JAMES H. TURLEY

For four years Bob has been a worthy member of that small but distinguished group whose privilege it is to represent the Dominion's capital here at Bishop's. We suppose that the usual things were written about him in the Freshmen Notes of the first number of THE MITRE published after his advent here. But his case has proved far from usual. He has really participated in most of the imposing list of activities commonly prophesied of all freshmen.

Bob has never represented the University in any sport, but the fact that he drilled with the C.O.T.C. for three years speaks well for his interest in the college teams. Then he has this past year managed the Divinity hockey team and played inter-year basketball. He plays tennis and is an out-and-out golf enthusiast.

Turning to other pursuits we find him connected in a business capacity with both dramatics and journalism. He held during 1931-32 the important post of business-manager for the dramatic society, and for three years has served THE MITRE, first on the advertising board, and more recently by fulfilling the onerous duties of secretary-treasurer. Then he has been a loyal member of the Rover Crew, and will graduate with a B.A. in Theology.

If one who knew him well were asked what was the most outstanding quality of Bob's character, he would unhesitatingly reply that it was a certain sturdy dependability and reliability. He can always be counted upon. This, with a keen ability to size up a situation with a view to action, has won for him a large circle of friends.

Bob hopes to be ordained Deacon in June by the Archbishop of Ottawa and will begin work in that Diocese immediately after. Our best wishes go with him.

MALCOLM ALLAN TURNER

Born in Sherbrooke on June 12th, 1911, Mac received his education in his home town at the Sherbrooke High School prior to his coming to Bishop's in 1929. From his advent he has been intimately connected with all the college activities. Already a recognized basketball player, he was a regular on the 1928-29 Provincial Intercollegiate Championship Team and when he was forced to retire from active playing he was at once sought out as Basketball Coach—a position which he has held for the past two years. In addition to basketball Mac has been a strong supporter of track activities in the college. He was a member of the winning Dunn Cup team in 1929 and in 1932 he carried off the Mrs. McGreer Shield.

Music also claims a great deal of his time and Mac is always willing and ready to "play" his part at functions both in and out of college. Despite his keen interest in many sides of college activities, Mac has not neglected his academic duties since he has come to Bishop's. This year he plans to write his French Option B.A.

Mac is a member of the Omega-Alpha Club, Sherbrooke, Sherbrooke Y's Men Club and the Sherbrooke Snowshoe Club. In addition, he finds time occasionally to indulge in a little hunting and golfing. His future plans remain somewhat uncertain, although he does not expect to be back with us next year.

ARTHUR WILLIAMS

As the world tore June the 9th, 1912, from the calendar, a new face appeared in Knowlton, Que. The owner was none other than Arthur Williams, and as in years to come he toddled down the streets of Knowlton to the local High School, from which he graduated in 1930, we no longer find him called Arthur, but as might be expected, the well known Art.

After his graduation Art lost no time in making his request for the higher learning made known to the Bursar, and that same Fall one might have seen him parading a green tie over the campus of Bishop's University. The green tie we know now was merely a means to an end, for Art intends to enter the Dentistry and is preparing himself hereby taking a B.A. in Science.

During his three years stay at Bishop's Art has always taken an active part in sports. In his freshman year he was seen both on the rugby field and the hockey rink. His second year was taken up with intermediate hockey and the position of Secretary-Treasurer of THE MITRE.

The senior year of any student is as a rule the most interesting and prosperous one in his college life; and this has proved no exception in Art's case. This year he played regular goalie for the Intermediate hockey team as well as being Secretary-Treasurer of the Students' Council.

With all these activities Art has also found time to take an active part in the Maths. and Science Club.

In saying goodbye to Arthur we wish him all kinds of success, and feel sure that that enthusiasm which has been characteristic of him in all college activities will be manifested also in his life's work.

THE CLASS OF 1933

It is difficult to say what distinguishes the Class of '33 from its predecessors. In a way, we are unique—we have lost our Senior freshman, we have lost our Second Year President, we have lost our one co-ed, and we are but twenty-one strong. We may not have done more for the college than any other graduating class, but we hope—although we realize fully that this is an old and time-honoured opinion—that we have not done less.

Of the graduates this year, a large percentage have taken an active part in the various student activities. R. F. Brown served admirably as President of last year's Student Council, and was replaced by J. S. Aikins, who acted as President of the Literary and Debating Society last year, and who, as Senior Man this year, was ably assisted by W. B. Bradley, W. J. W. Hodgins, S. E. A. Sherrell, R. E. Osborne and F. A. Williams.

During the past three years, a large proportion of our class turned out for the various college athletics. In our first year we were Inter-Year Basketball champions; in our Second year we won football honours; in our last year, due no doubt to our predilection for the studious pursuits, we were not successful in any concentrated pursuit, but were represented on the various teams.

To football, we contributed Bill Bradley and Dick Evans, as well as an able manager, Wallie Hodgins; to hockey, Wallie Hodgins, Dick Evans, Art Williams and Syd. McHarg, all of whom represented us on the Provincial Championship team of 1931-32 and on this year's team; to basketball, this year, due to academic regulations, our representation on the team was lowered. Sam Rudner acted as playing-manager, and with Mike Ortenburg, represented us on the team. Mac Turner, who has given two years of unselfish support and guidance to the team, coached it to a championship.

In Minor Athletics this year we are represented by M. E. Armstrong, who won the college Badminton Tournament, and by M. A. Turner, who won the McGreer Shield Road Race. Honorable mention must be given to Ford, Millar and Hume, who also ran.

To THE MITRE, we have given a President, R. E. Osborne, a President-elect and former Editor, J. F. S. Ford. Others who have served at one time or another on the staff of the magazine are J. S. Aikins, W. R. Crummer, R. J. Turley, J. I. Benson, T. L. B. O'Neill and F. A. Williams. The Year Book Committee is under the leadership of Mr. Osborne.

The Debating Society has been well represented by us also. Two Presidents—R. F. Brown and J. S. Aikins, a Secretary, M. E. Armstrong, and debaters—R. F. Brown, J. F. S. Ford and M. E. Armstrong, who have covered themselves with glory, at one time or another, in informal, Inter-Faculty, and Inter-University debates. Although this year has been accounted a bad one for Dramatics—we cannot see why—the office of President has been filled by S. E. A. Sherrell, and those of Vice-President and Business Manager, by J. I. Benson and J. F. S. Ford, respectively. In the past years, and in this one, the Society has been served in an executive capacity by R. J. Turley and T. L. B. O'Neill, and in an active one, by Messrs. Brown, Ford, Osborne, Sherrell and Millar.

The Maths and Science Club has been faithfully attended by scientific and mathematical gentlemen: D. M. Campbell, F. A. Williams, R. J. C. Evans and G. A. McMurray. The Officers' Training Corps, and it would not be fair to leave it out of the accounting, has not been neglected. Although we can boast of only one "A" certificate man, B. A. Millar, we have been represented in the non-commissioned ranks by C.Q.M.S. Sherrell and Band Sergeant Brown. The ranks, too, have not been neglected. Considering our collective pacific tastes and ideals, is it not surprising that all of us, save three, have served at one time or another in the O.T.C.

We are a rather quiet, unassuming lot, pursuing quietly the even tenure of our ways. Our academic life as a whole has not been exceptionally brilliant; but we have a few shining lights in our midst.

There are four of us who are interested in matters scientific, but not being entirely materialistic, we include philosophers, theologians, historians and students of both old and new languages.

We hope and trust, however, that our part, as a class, in the life at Bishop's University, has been for the bettering of our Alma Mater.

THE EDUCATION CLASS

The College year opened with eighteen ambitious young men and women in the Education Class. Two of its members, Messrs. R. D. Loomis and F. R. Pattison, left at the end of the first term and the class was reduced to sixteen—all veterans of Bishop's. The following are extracts from the more notorious doings of this elite group.

Mabel Blier, has, as usual, been active in Women Students' Association politics, being this year's President. The theatre-going public has not benefitted as in former years by Mabel's remarkable acting ability; but it may be assured of her continued interest in all forms of dramatic art. As proof, Mabel's performances in Co-ed Hockey and the Women's Glee Club.

Iola Beaulieu has graced the halls of Bishop's University and Lennoxville High with her presence and has helped many students to pass dull hours entertainingly. Besides starring on the Co-ed hockey team Iola has done excellent teaching at the School.

Gladys Hutley, with "Friday" Hodgkinson, has been condemned to spend much of her time teaching pupils to distinguish on the map Australia, New Zealand, and "likely" islands in the Southern Pacific. But she also found time to sing in the Glee Club. Other less notorious doings by Gladys will appear in her Memoirs.

Bill Bisson has behaved much as would a conscientious student.

Norris Brough ran into bad luck during the Christmas holidays when he broke his leg practising for first team hockey. As Norris would say: "It was a tough break". We are glad to see him back and wish him much better luck for the remainder of the year.

Don Buchanan, whose soft brown eyes have for the past three years haunted the dim corridors of Bishop's, is, of course, quite famous for his white Borsalino and coonskin coat. They and his evidence of hard work will be much missed.

Wynne Dickson has done valuable work as Acting Vice-President of the Students' Association.

Gordon Doak, in the intervals of tinkering with toy hectographs and old electric irons, has been a valuable asset to the Third Year-Grads' hockey team. He also stalks the corridors of the local school.

Ernie Eades, alias "Elegant Ernie", has again provided stirring martial music for the "home guards". Apart from parades and O.T.C. dances, his time, he says, is pretty well taken up with work.

Frank Fleming has been a conscientious student and student teacher; but has shown himself not lacking in a sense of humour for all that.

Jim Hodgkinson, noted for puns, papers, and pupils, has indulged among other things in writing to THE MITRE, singing, and typing. Incidentally, he is the occasion of the well-known formula: "Friday + an amendment = an amendment to the amendment".

Wallace MacDonald returned to Bishop's last autumn after an absence of two years. He has been too busy to tell us what he does when he isn't working.

Don. McRae captained the Hockey Team this year and played well.

Walter Rowse (consult any reliable ornithological dictionary), has consistently lamented the shortness of the holidays. He intends soon to take a year off to visit his relatives in Manchukuo, Vladivostok, and the north of Scotland.

Lloyd Somerville, "Slim", is back at Bishop's after a four year's absence. He is celebrated for his physical experiments.

"Tikker" Titcombe, (so-called because of his fondness for counting seconds on timekeepers' watches), once more played brilliant football and hockey for Bishop's. He also teaches New Test scripture to enthusiastic audiences at the High. Favourite abjuration, "Go away Peter, fly away Paul".

The Class of '33 has enjoyed the course in Education, and wishes to thank Dr. Rothney for making it both amusing and instructive.

THE MITRE BOARD, 1932-33

Seated:—Misses Savage, Bayne, Messrs. Munro (Circulation Mgr.), Dr. F. G. Vial (Hon. President), Osborne (President), Dr. W. O. Raymond (Hon. Vice-President), Cameron (Business Mgr.), Misses Smith, Hutley.
Absent:—The Rev. C. Sauerbrey (Hon. Vice-President), Stephens (Editor-in-Chief), Hodgkinson.

The Mitre

The academic year 1932-33 marks the fortieth anniversary of THE MITRE. This stage in THE MITRE'S life was marked especially by an anniversary number issued in February, and dedicated to the Reverend Professor F. G. Vial, M.A., B.D., D.C.L.

The Mitre Board this year has endeavoured to arouse the student's interest in his college magazine by making its material as varied and interesting as possible. On the whole, we have received good support from within the University, but we are sorry we cannot say the same about our graduates. It is on them that the Alumni Editor depends to a very great extent, and a constant appeal to them through our columns has remained unanswered. The Mitre Board must also make a plea for increased circulation; we feel that more interest might be displayed by those who have gone out from the University.

During the year we have had no fewer than three Editors-in-Chief, all of whom deserve the highest praise. Mr. Crummer, who so ably edited the October issue, was obliged to resign because of insufficient time to devote to this work. Mr. Ford, who edited the December issue, has been elected President for 1933-34, and we wish him every success during his term of office. Mr. Stephens, who has had much experience in journalistic work, has edited the last three issues in a very proficient manner; we appreciate greatly his work. To the Advertising Manager, Mr. G. J. Cameron, a great deal of credit must be given and it is largely due to his efforts that we will finish this year with a good balance on hand. It is impossible to give due credit to each individual member on The Mitre Board in this brief account; they all did their work well in producing what we hope has been a successful volume.

It would be very difficult indeed to estimate the value of our Honorary members. They have at all times been willing to assist us in every way possible.

We who leave The Mitre Board this year, extend to the President-elect and his Executive, our very best wishes for 1933-34.

Sitting:—BOOTHROYD (Sec. and Team), C. C. LLOYD, Esq., (Hon. Pres.), EBERTS (Pres.), MUNRO (Councillor and Team).
Standing:—BRADLEY (Team), STEPHENS (Team).

The Literary and Debating Society, 1932-33

During the past year, the Literary and Debating Society has been operating on a new system, alternating debates and papers at the weekly meetings. This has enabled it to stress rather more than in the past the literary side of its activities and has added to its usefulness.

The papers have been, "Some Aspects of the Crisis," read by Mr. J. Aikens; "Student Life in Germany," by Mr. W. Bisson; "Witchcraft", by Prof. Preston; "Soviet Russia", by a visitor, Mr. Smith; "The New Psychology", by Prof. Burt; and lastly "Methods of Naval Attack and Defence", a most interesting talk by Mr. H. Hibbard.

The debates in the Common Room were in some cases decidedly weaker than those of last year; but some unexpected humour enlivened many of them, and as training and exercise in debating both for the main speakers and those speaking from the floor they remain invaluable.

Arts won the Skinner Trophy. The Inter-University debates, on the subject: "Resolved that this house approves Japan's policy in Manchuria", were both lost.

In a debate with a touring British team, sponsored by the N. F. C. U. S., Mr. Brown and Mr. Ford, of the affirmative, obtained the decision in "Resolved that Democracy has been proved, in the past ten years, to be a failure."

The Society's Mock World Conference, in which Canada invited twenty nations to meet in Canada to decide on whether or not to outlaw beer, was voted by most who saw it to be an improvement on last year's Mock Parliament, thanks to the many excellent costumes, and amusing addresses of the delegates.

Sitting:—BENSON (Vice-Pres.), REV. PROF. H. C. BURT, M.A. (Hon. Pres.), SHERRELL (Pres.), C. C. LLOYD, ESQ., M.A. (Director),
WRIGHT (Sec. Treas.). Standing:—FORD, PIBUS, ELKIN.

Dramatic Society

The Dramatic Society began what promised to be a successful year by producing three one-act plays in November. G. J. Cameron produced Barrie's Twelve Pound Look, a play difficult for amateurs to do. J. I. Benson put on W. W. Jacobs' The Monkey's Paw, a play which was undoubtedly the triumph of the evening both from the points of view of actors and audience. Five Birds in a Cage, a happy farce by Gertrude Jennings, was the third play; it was directed by J. P. R. Macaulay. In these three plays many newcomers to the University, or at least to the Dramatic Society, were discovered, to the joy and encouragement of the then hopeful Executive.

The Executive, the players, the whole University in fact, were disappointed, however, when, for the first time in the history of the Society, the production of a major play or another tournament of three short plays was found to be impossible. Difficulties had arisen in the loss of two members of the Executive, the illness of the President, the shortness of time after Lent before examinations, and principally, the absence of a suitable play. The break in what had been considered an inviolable tradition at least had one beneficial result: a new interest in the work of the Society by a large number of undergraduates who had accepted it before with tragic passiveness. To judge from the enthusiasm and spirit of the days when the issue hung fire, next year should see the Society carried to new heights.

With the major play as nothing more than a subject for regret, the Society wisely redoubled its efforts to build up the Reading Circle. The Circle, for too long the ugly duckling of the student activities, met on many Sundays during the Lent Term and read Clemence Dane's Bill of Divorcement, Hacket's Captain Applejack, and the Life and Death of Sir John Falstaff. This last was adapted by Mr. C. C. Lloyd from Shakespeare's Henry IV, parts I and II, and Henry V, and in the reading, by far the most successful of the year. John Macaulay as Falstaff, Dean Carrington as Mistress Quickly, and A. C. Church as Prince Hal gave noble and amusing interpretations of the characters.

The Scout Group

The Scout Group is now four years old, and many of its first members are running Scout Troops throughout Canada, from Charlie Reeve in the Rocky Mountains, to Cecil Ward at Gaspé Peninsula. This year has been exceptionally good. Our numbers, which were much depleted last year, have been made up. The Arts Faculty is beginning to feel the fascination of Scouting, and some who joined us this year already know a lot about the game. In consequence we have reached a higher standard in Scouting than ever before.

Although we are registered as Rovers (i.e. Senior Scouts), we decided this year to run as an ordinary Troop of Boy Scouts. Our officers are:—Scoutmaster, the Dean. Assistant Scoutmaster, Russel Brown. Second Assistant, Bob Turley, alternating with Eric Osborne. Secretary, M. A. Stephens. Patrol Leaders, Albert Eagles, Hubert Hibbard and Eric Osborne, alternating with Bob Turley.

In the Michaelmas Term we did very good outdoor work. During the winter we took a Wolf Cub course, indoor Scoutwork, and a few days tracking and signalling in the snow. We are now engaged in practising wide games, i.e. extended games in the woods, such as Dispatch Running and Flag Reading.

Throughout the year we have not lost sight of our main objective of Scoutmaster Training. Short talks have been given on the principles of the movement; and it is hoped that some will earn the Headquarter's Certificate.

BISHOP'S UNIVERSITY CONTINGENT
CANADIAN OFFICERS' TRAINING CORPS

C.O.T.C. Activities

Starting with a well-turned-out Guard of Honour at the special Fall Convocation and ending with a perfect day for the annual photo of the contingent—a very important occasion—The Bishop's Canadian Officers' Training Corps can look back on the past season's work as being at the very least no worse than any previous season's and probably better than many.

As the years go by, more and more diversions crop up within the college walls—and without—which make it somewhat difficult to maintain high interest in this purely voluntary branch of Bishop's activities. On the whole, however, the men of the University responded well.

The valuable support of Lieut-Col. A. H. McGreer, O.B.E., M.C., president of the Bishop's O.T.C. and the Commanding Officer, Major Stuart Sanders, have been potent factors in the success of the contingent. But the excellent work of 2nd Lieut. A. V. Ottiwell, who carried out the arduous duties of adjutant to perfection, must be particularly commended, and all ranks genuinely regret that final-year work will keep him from filling the same position this coming season; for as the last of the corp's officers who saw service overseas, he brought a wealth of experience to his duties. The platoon commanders were 2nd Lieuts. E. F. H. Boothroyd, D. G. Masson, and Bruce Munro.

The special Convocation held early last Fall for the purpose of conferring honorary degrees on certain notables, and in particular, His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor of Quebec, made it necessary to turn out a guard-of-honour on very short notice. The guard was an outstanding success, due to the ability of Quartermaster-Sergeant-Instructor Auclair of the Royal 22nd's of Quebec City.

No. 2 PLATOON, WINNERS ROSS-McMURTY CUP

In the Inter-Platoon competition held just previous to Easter both platoons showed a great deal of improvement, and No. 2 platoon, under Bruce Munro and Sgt. P. D. Curry barely nosed out No. 1, under E. F. H. Boothroyd and Sgt. W. L. Tomkins, to retain the Ross-McMurty Cup.

On the following day came the climax of the entire season's work—the general inspection. Brig.-Gen. W. W. P. Gibsone, C.M.G., O.C., M.D. No. 4, with Major C. A. H. Trudeau, Q.M.G., was on hand to receive the general salute from the contingent and to see the men put through their paces. The General was well pleased with the showing of the Corps and in a congratulatory speech stressed the field-work side of the drill.

The three dances held this year were without any doubt the very best put on in the College. The first two were held in the College gym, but the last, a gala affair, was held in Sherbrooke at the Masonic Hall, with the music by Rollie Badger and his orchestra. At this last dance the contingent was host to the officers of the Sherbrooke Regiment.

With this year's work over, the O.T.C. looks forward to next year. More elaborate plans than ever before are being considered to make it possible for trained men to proceed to more interesting subjects than mere fundamentals. Among the new appointments which will in all probability take place before next Fall are those of C.S.M. G. J. Cameron to the position of 2nd Lieut. and Adjutant and Sgt. P. D. Curry to the command of one of the platoons. Both these men received their "A" Certificates last year along with B. A. Millar, L. W. Tomkins, Bruce Munro, and E. F. H. Boothroyd. In this year's course fifteen candidates took the examinations for the "A" Certificate, while two tried for the "B".

Women Students' Association

The membership of the association this year is limited to twenty-six. The freshette class, which numbers eleven, was duly initiated and then entertained at tea by their seniors in the Club Rooms early in the term. Vacant offices were filled by electing the following:—Miss Phyllis McVie, Senior Freshette; Miss Helen Bayne, Miss Gladys Hutley, THE MITRE; Miss Iola Beaulieu, Graduate Representative; Miss Lyndall Jackson, The Glee Club; Miss Helen Acheson, The Dramatic Reading Club.

During the Michaelmas term, the Association limited its activities to the raising of funds, by two entertaining and successful functions—a Tea Dance in Convocation Hall, and a Bridge in the new Club Rooms, on Clough Avenue, which are considerably more spacious. The rooms have been rather attractively decorated as a result of these parties.

In the Lent term, the Faculty were entertained at tea. Miss Mabel Blier, the President, received the guests, and the Honorary President, Mrs. Carrington, presided at the tea table. Another event of the term was a highly amusing sleigh ride, which was rather cold and financially a failure.

The Glee Club, under the direction of Mrs. Boothroyd, had a larger attendance this year. Rehearsals culminated in a concert given in Douglas Hall with the assistance of a sextet of men from the University; after which the Principal and Mrs. McGreer served coffee to the performers at the Lodge. The Dramatic Reading Circle, also well attended, met frequently under the able direction of Mrs. Carrington.

Athletics, on the whole, were unsuccessful, but amusing. The basketball team, playing in the Sherbrooke League, did not win a championship; but it did defeat the Sunshine Basketball Club of Verdun. The hockey team played several notable games against Lennoxville High, the Divinity Faculty, and the McGill Women's Hockey Club. The last game they lost to the superior skill and experience of the McGill players.

Women Students' Glee Club

The Glee Club, an ever popular organization among the Women Students, has again completed a most successful and gratifying year, under the leadership of Mrs. Boothroyd.

On November 2nd Mrs. Boothroyd entertained the women students at a delightful afternoon tea, and outlined the work of the Club to the new members. Lyndall Jackson was elected Secretary-Treasurer for the season. Since that time meetings have been held every Wednesday afternoon at the homes of the various members, and Mrs. Boothroyd, Mrs. Brundage, the Misses Stevens, Mrs. Seale, Mrs. Christison, Mrs. Pergau, Mrs. Jackson, and Miss Elsa Burt, have also shown their interest and hospitality in inviting the Club to their homes to practice, and by serving tea afterwards.

Owing to the small number of women students attending the University in the past two years, the Glee Club did not attempt to display its talent in public, but sang rather for the enjoyment they themselves obtained from it. This year, however, its ranks have been increased with sopranos, and with several strong and much-needed alto voices. With some thirteen members, the Club perfected many of the part songs it had practised last year, and learned several new ones, to the end that it was able to give a recital in Douglas Hall on the 6th of April.

Here the opportunity may be taken to thank Messrs. Whalley, Curry, Benson, Hodgkinson, Brown and Cuttall for the help they gave in making the concert a success. After the concert, the Principal and Mrs. A. H. McGreer invited the members of the club to the Lodge for coffee. The proceeds of the concert were most gratifying, and were added to the funds for the Club Rooms, except for a small sum which was given to the Western Canada Restoration Fund.

The Club appreciates Mrs. Boothroyd's interest and willing leadership, and it can assure the students of the future a most enjoyable and profitable time if they join the Glee Club.

Women's Hockey Team

This year the women's hockey team put in a good season, and although not very successful in the various encounters, they thoroughly enjoyed the games.

Under the vigorous coaching of Hugh Gall, the team has done some good work and shown great improvement. The first game was played on February 9th, against the Divinity Faculty. This was a real game, as some male admirer of co-ed athletic prowess remarked. The team emerged successful with a count of four to one, though only two goals were scored.

The second game was a battle to the finish. The Bishop's co-eds came up against the Lennoxville team on February 16th on the college rink. It was a good game, but the village team proved too strong. A return match was played on March 2nd at the Minto rink. Once again the team was defeated, but never daunted. Then March 4th, met in a friendly game, a team from McGill. This game was enjoyed by all—and everyone hopes for a similar match next year. The McGill girls, of course, won 7-0, but with the exception of Babs Goulding, the teams were about equal. After the game Mrs. McGreer entertained both teams. Last, but not least, came the second game with the Divinity Faculty. This time we were victorious, after leading the Divines a merry chase.

Gladys Christison's place as captain of the team will be taken by Betty Brewer. We hope for as good results from her as we have had from Gladys, who will move into the position of manager of the team.

The line-up: was:—

Forwards..... Gladys Christison (captain), Margaret Earle, Kaye Savage, Clara Parsons.
Centre Helen Acheson, Roberta Hodgins.
Defence..... Chev. Austin, Betty Brewer, Mabel Blier, Barbara Eardley-Wilmot.
Goaler..... Dorothy Wallace.

Standing:—MISSSES CHRISTISON, BRADLEY, MR. C. F. McCULLOUGH (Coach), MISSSES BAYNE, WALLACE, McVIE.
Sitting:—MISSSES BREWER, JACKSON, AUSTEN, ACHESON, SCHWARTZ.

Women Students' Basketball

The basketball team had the same fortune as most of the College sports—excepting rugby—great spirit, great fun, but no great success. Five games were played. Of these, two with Sherbrooke High were lost, 8-5 and 13-7. Two were played with Sherbrooke Independents, the first, a loss by 20-4, the return game at the College gym, a win by 16-13. The last game, on March 18th, in Montreal, was a vindication of the team. They won from the Verdun Presbyterian Church Team by 35-17.

The team was managed by Margaret Bradley, who played forward. She has been made captain for next season. With her at forward was the redoubtable Helen Bayne. Evelyn Austin played at centre and was captain. "Chev" leaves the University in June with an M.A. and the team dreads the thought of finding her equal as a basket-getter for next year. Defence was played by Lyndall Jackson and Betty Brewer.

Helen Acheson, Jacqueline Schwartz, Dorothy Wallace and Gladys Christison were subs. this year; and to them as well as to the freshettes the team is looking for 1934.

Charles McCullough coached the team. He coached it last year, and, if memory serves, the year before that. The team likes Charles and Charles So next year he will be on hand again as the "popular and inspiring coach".

The season ended, as seasons should end, with a dinner. This one was eaten with the Women's Hockey Team and their coach, Hugh Gall.

Rugby

The reports of this year's Rugby show what amounts to almost an unqualified success. The Intermediate Team was entered in the Quebec Rugby Football Union as well as the Intercollegiate League, giving a total of eight scheduled games for the season. The Eastern Q.R.F.U. championship fell to Bishop's with very little difficulty, defeating the Quebec Swimmers and Sherbrooke without sustaining a single defeat, but the team did not enter the finals. After an unbroken succession of six victories, Bishop's triumphal march was halted with a 15-6 defeat at the hands of the McGill Freshmen on a muddy field and with a greasy ball.

The final and deciding game was lost to Loyola by a score of 3-1 after Bishop's had held a one-point lead until three minutes before the closing whistle. It was a hard-fought game on the Loyola Field and one that will not soon be forgotten by those who played or by those who were fortunate enough to see it.

Mention must be made of the men responsible for the handling of the team. "Hal" Chard, former outside wing on the McGill senior team, proved a thorough and inspiring coach. His policy of "Condition First" is no doubt the main factor that made it possible to pile up scores of 30-1 and 20-8 and defeat Loyola in the first game of the season. He worked out a good system of line-plunging and powerful plays without ignoring the possibilities of the forward pass. Don Masson ably captained the team, setting a fine example of consistency and hard work by his fearless line-plunging and heavy and accurate tackling. The kicking duties were handled throughout the season by Oggie Glass, formerly of Bishop's College School. It would be invidious to make distinctions between the players as all worked together in perfect harmony and fully justified the efforts of both coach and captain. The manager and assistant manager are two men upon whom the team are dependent to a large extent for their success. No clearer indication of the efficiency and hard work of Wally Hodgins and Hugh Gall can be given than the whole-hearted acclamation accorded them by the entire team. Next year we shall have Hugh Gall as manager. We wish him luck; he will need it.

The loss of Don Masson, captain, and Gordie Titcomb, the spectacular line man, will be sorely felt next year and the vacancy left by the withdrawal of these two, who were always good for yards in a case of necessity, will be difficult to fill. But there is no doubt that under the able leadership of Peter Curry a very presentable team will be formed.

This year the Juniors were winners of the Junior Inter-provincial Championship (by default). This, however, is a matter that invokes universal mockery. No improvement can be made upon the skilful phraseology of John Aikins at the Rugby Banquet . . . "they played three games and won the championship". Ross Ingalls, as captain, was faithfully supported and although the team was not a spectacular one it ought to produce material for next year's intermediates.

A hearty vote of thanks is due to the senior team of Bishop's College School and the Junior University team for their support throughout the season and for the facilities for practice they placed at the disposal of the intermediates at all times.

The Inter-Year Rugby, to which all look forward with ill-concealed glee, was unfortunately prevented by the bad weather.

Hockey

The record of the Intermediate team of '33 is not an impressive one; for out of a total of sixteen games the team won one, drew three, and lost the remaining twelve. But in fairness to the team it should be noted that they were continually handicapped by injuries. Before the league schedule began the services of Norris Brough were lost when he splintered a bone in his leg; while a painful throat injury to Chick Carson and a badly bruised leg muscle to Captain Don McRae forced these two stars to the bench for several games. And with Sid. McHarg an invalid, it was a sadly depleted team which represented Bishop's this year.

In the Intercollegiate games the most keenly contested were those with Bishop's ancient rivals, Loyola. Bishop's lost both games: at home, by 2-1; at Loyola, by 4-1. In the home game against McGill Bishop's fought hard to lose by 3-2; the return game at Montreal was defaulted. Against University of Montreal the team did better—they lost the first in the Arena by 4-1 and tied the home game three all.

The lone win of the season was from East Sherbrooke in the Sherbrooke County Hockey League when Bishop's won 2-1 after losing the first game at Sherbrooke 4-2. In the same league Canadiens won both games with a two goal margin, 4-2 and 3-1. With Lennoxville the first game was a one-all tie; the second a loss by 6-1.

Against Magog Bishop's earned another draw in the second game after losing the first 5-1.

The team was again coached by Jerry Wiggett and the dismal record of the season is no reflection on his ability. For hard work and perseverance he is known; but hard work and perseverance can do little against Fortune when she has her back up. Jerry has given us championship teams and, given decent breaks, he will again.

The team this year was a mixture of old and new blood. In Chick Carson, Oggie Glass, Larry Brooks, Tony Earle, and Judd Christison were five rookies with a deal of fight and playing ability. Gordie Titcomb and Don McRae on defence and Art Williams in goal were a strong defence and we shall miss them next year. But we shall not lack a goalie, however, as Labaree will be back again. The remainder of the squad included such redoubtables as Wally Hodgins, Chris. Eberts, Ernie Hutchison, Dick Evans and Rod Sterling, each of whom deserves special mention for his fine showing.

The Junior team contained some excellent and heartening material for future years. Whalley and Cooper in the nets, Pibus and Norris on the defence, Rattray, Hunt and Olmstead on the forward line, all played splendidly.

The Inter-faculty trophy was won by Divinity who were never defeated, and who made a record of 25 goals for, with 3 against. The team was made up of Elkin, S. Wright, Eagles, Rollit, Muir, A. Hodgins, Gray, Perkins and Belford.

Basketball

There was a record turnout for basketball this year and two teams were formed. But a week later six members of the first team were rendered ineligible for academic reasons; so the idea of two teams had to be abandoned, and one team was organized out of the remaining material, under the supervision of Coach Mac Turner and Captain Charlie McCullough.

After dropping the first game by two points, Bishop's romped through the schedule without another loss. The team was at all times enthusiastic and highly determined, which is a characteristic of winning teams, and counts as much as cold playing skill.

After winning the Sherbrooke League, Bishop's entered the Provincial play-downs, opposing 57th Battery of Quebec. In the first game, played at the Sherbrooke Y., Bishop's had it over Battery like a tent, scoring from all over the floor, and tying up the Battery offence to win decisively 41-24. The return game, played at Quebec found Bishop's on a floor about twice the size of any floor they had played on this year. They lost the round 80-65. But as Battery was probably the better team anyway, the season was voted the most successful since 1930.

All year the work of Captain Charlie McCullough stood out. He played centre and had a good season, leading the team in shooting, which distinction he shared with Kenny Ross, forward, whose phenomenal shooting more than made up for his mediocre floorwork. Sam Rudner, the other forward, was the play-maker of the team, and his brainy floorwork and finished style stood out. "Rusty" Baird and Mike Wisenthal formed a reliable defence, the former also playing centre at times. The subs: Perkins, Hume, Ortenberg, Purdy, Rollit, Medine and Hogg turned out regularly at practices, gave the regulars some real opposition in the scrimmages, and filled in well in the games when given a chance.

The Maths and Science Club

The Maths and Science Club is never known for the number of its meetings; but rather for their excellence. This year it met only twice. At the first Mr. Claude Sauerbrei gave a lecture on "Photography", a particularly apt subject since this year a large number of students have taken to the camera with great interest and success. And the club was fortunate in having such an authority as Mr. Sauerbrei give not only a sketch of the development of photography but also practical advice and demonstrations of the practice of the art or craft.

At the second meeting Professor Kuehner gave a talk on "Heredity and Eugenics", a subject on which he had lectured in the Extension Course at Sherbrooke. The subject this time was even more apt if the size of the audience is any criterion; practically the whole resident student body attended, as well as a decent number of day students and some co-eds.

These two subjects may be mathematical and scientific in their more specialized branches; but both have an interest for the average unscientific undergraduate because they are subjects with which he should have a more than passing familiarity. The Maths and Science Club has found through these two lectures that their precious subjects are popular. They can do themselves and the University good service by providing more of them.

Badminton

The Badminton Club of this College holds a unique position in the sphere of college activities. It is without doubt the only sport in which the student may compete with the faculty on equal terms. The advantage of such intercourse between teacher and pupil has in all probability been the factor which in the last six years has raised the enrolment from five to forty-five members.

Early in February The Students' Council granted the society the privilege of electing their own officers.

The experiment of placing the organization under one man proved so successful this year as to warrant its adoption for all times.

During March a tournament was held for the purpose of selecting a team to represent the College in a match against Sherbrooke. Subsequent events, however, made it impossible, so the match has been postponed until next fall.

The final match for The Mrs. Charles Meredith Trophy, emblematic of the College Championship, was played on Friday, May 5th, when M. E. Armstrong defeated Peter Curry in two hard fought games. It is interesting to note in connection with this Championship, that no one has ever won it twice in the history of the club.

Under Mr. C. H. Bradford, next year's President, we are sure the club will flourish as it has in the past.

Minor Activities

This year the Annual Road Races were the subject of unusual interest due to the fact that a large number of students took part. Mac Turner, the winner of the McGreer Shield Road Race made the excellent time of 27 mins., 35 secs., only 30 secs. slower than the record time made by J. C. A. Cole in 1931. E. S. D. Weaver finished a close second, breasting the tape 3 secs. later. Fred Royal came third.

Owing to weather conditions the Dunn Cup Road Race was postponed until May 4th of this year. In this event, J. Richardson, representing the First Year Arts, came in first, but as he was the sole runner for his Year, the laurels were carried off by the Second Year Team composed of F. Royal, E. S. D. Weaver and P. Broadhurst.

Two minor athletics which are becoming more and more popular at Bishop's are Golf and Tennis. Improvements have been made to the tennis courts, and they are now in an excellent condition. The advent of Spring is a reminder of the annual golf tournament, held between the close of examinations and Convocation, in which many of the students will participate. The Meredith Challenge Trophy, emblematic of the golf championship of Bishop's, was won last year by Alex Ames.
