MUS 475F Recital 6-1-14
Through two continuous semesters, students in Honours Performance must prepare and present a full recital at the end of the academic year. A written work on a topic chosen by the student in consultation with the Department must also be presented. Attendance at studio recitals and Music Chez Nous concerts is a required element of this course. Open only to Music Students enrolled in Performance Honours, who have completed MUS 373 (or MUS 273) with a grade of at least 80%.

2. Elective Performance Courses:
After an initial audition, these courses are open to all music students and students outside of the Music program. They consist of 10 times 45 minutes of private lessons on an instrument or in voice. The lesson schedule goes in the agreement of the instructor and the student and starts after add/drop date. End-of-term juries are required for all “X71” courses.
*Non-music students must consult with the Music Department before they enroll in MUS 170.
*For all elective performance courses, there is a fee surcharge levied each term. Please see fee schedule “Music Practicum” under “Other Fees”.

MUS 170 Elective Instrument I 1-3/4-5
Performance instruction for either a principal or second instrument, which is not a program requirement. No jury exam is required.

MUS 171 Elective Instrument II 2-3/4-5
A continuation of MUS 170. End-of-term jury exam is required.

MUS 270 Elective Instrument III 1-3/4-5
See description under MUS 170.

MUS 271 Elective Instrument IV 2-3/4-5
A continuation of MUS 270. Jury exam is required.

MUS 370 Elective Instrument V 1-3/4-5
See description under MUS 170.

MUS 371 Elective Instrument VI 2-3/4-5
A continuation of MUS 370. Jury exam is required.

Program Overview
Human beings are filled with wonder, curiosity and awe about the world we live in and about our own beguiling lives. Philosophy quite literally asks the “big questions” about the meaning of life and death, what human fulfillment is, the parameters of a just society, cosmology, metaphysics and a host of other similar topics. We also explore the nature of reason and good arguments.

Knowledge of the philosophical tradition is essential to a sound and liberal education. It lies at the heart of what Bishop’s has understood historically and continues to embrace today as its educational mission.

In recognition of this, the Department of Philosophy offers a program designed to meet the needs of both specialists and those seeking to supplement their work in other disciplines. Honours and Majors follow a curriculum which emphasizes two broad areas: Continental European Philosophy and the Western Philosophical Tradition, including Analytic philosophy. Advanced students may also pursue independent studies of special topics in greater depth. These offerings are supplemented by a series of introductory and cross-disciplinary courses designed to provide the background, skills and tools for a thoughtful, critical approach to a wide variety of problems and issues and are delivered, for the most part, at a level accessible to the non-specialist.
Programs

Honours in Philosophy (60 credits)  HONPHI

Candidates for the Honours program must obtain at least an average of 70% on the best 60 credits in Philosophy in order to be eligible to enter the Honours program. In addition to the requirements for a major, Honours students complete two further elective philosophy courses and are required to write an Honours thesis (PHI 400 / PHI 401, 6 credits).

Major in Philosophy (48 credits)  MAJPHI

Honours and Majors in Philosophy must have the following courses:

Any 3 of:
- LIB 210  Eros, Love and Desire
- LIB 211  Empire and Its Enemies
- LIB 212  In Search of Justice
- LIB 213  The Use and Abuse of Beauty
- LIB 214  Ecological Crisis and the Struggle for Environmental Justice
- LIB 215  Causation and Creativity
- LIB 216  The Divine and Ultimate Concern
- LIB 217  Space, Place & The Human Experience
- LIB 218  The History and Philosophy of Science

(List of Courses: any 3 courses among the above and 4 more courses can be chosen from the listed courses. Any 3 of the above courses are required in addition to the requirements for a Philosophy Minor. Any additional courses must be taught by members of the Department of Philosophy.)

Any 3 of:
- PHI 100  On the Way to the Good Life
- PHI 101  On Thinking and Thinking Well
- PHI 102  The Metaphysical Mysteries of Reality
- PHI 103  But How Do You Know?
- PHI 104  The Hopes and Conflicts of Social and Political Life
- PHI 105  Freedom, Anxiety and Authenticity: Existentialist Philosophy
- PHI 110  Philosophy of Sex and Love
- PHI 271  Socrates and Plato
- PHI 272  Aristotle
- PHI 260  Kant
- PHI 204  Analytic Philosophy

Language Requirement: All philosophy majors and honours must complete two courses in a language of their choice, modern or ancient. The remaining 12 credits are made of philosophy electives.

Minor in Philosophy (24 credits)  MINPHI

A minor consists of any 24 credits in philosophy.

List of Courses

General Introduction

PHI 100  On the Way to the Good Life  3-3-0
Every one of us strives to live the best possible life—to achieve real happiness and fulfillment. We taste deep joy and even ecstasy, and yet we face beguiling worries. Are we tragic beings that always undermine our own projects? Is there real evil in humanity such that our happiness is an illusion? Is it possible to be truly fulfilled? To really flourish? In this course students not only engage with key texts from our tradition that tackle these issues, but are also encouraged to explore and develop their own pathways to the “good life”.

PHI 101  On Thinking and Thinking Well  3-3-0
Thinking well is absolutely necessary to your freedom, for if we think poorly we are vulnerable to the manipulation and ideological coercion of others. Indeed, thinking permeates our lives, and poor thinking can undermine or even sabotage our most important and valued projects and activities. Whether we try to discern rhetoric from argument in political debate, solve a conflict in our personal lives or prove a scientific hypothesis, we must become good at the art of both discovering and giving good reasons for what we hold to be true. In this course we carefully study the art of good reasoning and argument in a manner directly oriented to strengthening each student’s capacity to thrive as a student in the university, as a citizen of his or her community and in his or her personal life.

PHI 102  The Metaphysical Mysteries of Reality  3-3-0
Is reality fundamentally “one”, such that humanity and nature are unified and interdependent, sharing a common purpose that we are only just starting to grasp? Or are we fragmented individuals adrift in a chaotic or even absurd and surreal universe in which, if there is to be meaning at all, it must be simply created by our will? Is some other notion of reality yet more convincing? In this course we will explore the great metaphysical mysteries of being and reality.

PHI 103  But How Do You Know?  3-3-0
From personal questions like “How do I know I am in love?”, scientific problems like “How do we know the universe began with a ‘Big Bang’?”, the problem of how do we know saturates our experience. Surely “seeing is believing”, and yet so much intellectual and artistic experience requires that we posit ideas and images that are impossible to perceive with our senses. Moreover, is there still a way in which we can say there is Truth, or is truth really just disguised power? In this course we will explore great puzzles of knowing that animate problems from the Scientific Method to claims about religious knowledge.

PHI 104  The Hopes and Conflicts of Social and Political Life  3-3-0
We live in a time of great social and political turmoil. On the one hand, there is widespread consensus that democracy is the only form of governance adequate to the dignity of human freedom. Yet on the other hand, we are plagued by worries that enormous gaps of wealth and power make authentic democratic participation next to impossible. Or we worry that the state or large corporations are robbing citizens of their genuine liberty. Is our society dominated by the “1%”, or are current inequalities of wealth and power actually of mutual benefit to everyone? This course will focus on concrete social and political conflicts and struggles in our own time, and trace the way that these raise fundamental philosophical and political problems about freedom, rights, gender and sexuality, race and ethnicity, economic justice and other important themes.

PHI 105  Freedom, Anxiety and Authenticity: Existentialist Philosophy  3-3-0
Beneath our freedom is nothing but an abyss, for there is no God or metaphysical foundation for humanity to lean upon. Freedom is thus less a liberty “to do what we want” than an anxiety-laden imperative to either create meaning for ourselves or flee from that responsibility. So said the larger than life existentialist philosophers of the 20th century, Jean-Paul Sartre, Simone de Beauvoir, Martin Heidegger and others. In this course we introduce this dynamic philosophical movement that continues to have enormous influence over our culture by studying not only its main writers but also by exploring the many vital human themes it raises.
PHI 250 Ethics on the Cutting Edge 3-3-0
What is gender? What is sexuality, and how is it different from eroticism? Is love just expression of reproductive drives or a higher calling to the Beautiful, the Good and the True? This course explores traditional and contemporary theories of love, desire and sexuality as problems at the heart of the human journey.

To what degree and in what way are we responsible for other people? For nature? What is the relationship of our freedom to those profound experiences in which we sacrifice much of our liberty—like friendship, love, and family? Is love truly the path to fulfillment, as so many have claimed over the centuries? This course will deal with these and other issues crucial to the lives of all people, and do so in a way that does not require any prior philosophical training. Our main sources will not only be contemporary philosophers, but also poets, novelists, painters and other artists.

Inspired by the European romantics and idealists but charting a distinctly New World path, the great philosophical and literary authors of the 19th century New England Renaissance gave birth to Transcendentalist philosophy – especially in authors like Ralph Waldo Emerson and Henry David Thoreau. Spurning the elitism and dualistic battles of European thought, this movement affirmed the wisdom of emotion and sensuality but without spurning reason. The transcendentalists prepared the ground for the birth of Pragmatism in the late 19th century, especially in philosophers like Charles Sanders Peirce, William James and, in the next generation, John Dewey. Temporarily eclipsed by the rise of analytical philosophy drawing on works of Frege, Russell, Wittgenstein, Ayer, Schlick, Carnap, Moore, Ryle, Austin, Quine, Davidson and Putnam.

This course will focus on the development of the hermeneutic philosophy of language whose origin dates to the late 18th century. The major figures studied will include Wittgenstein, Heidegger and Gadamer.
This course will explore key philosophical themes through film. Students will combine viewing and discussion of film with the study of related philosophical texts. Pre- or Co-Requisite: Any course in philosophy or any course in the Film Studies minor.

PHI 346  Topics in The Philosophy of Art 3-3-0
A look at some attempts by major thinkers to account for the nature of art and beauty, focusing on texts of Plato and Aristotle, Kant and Hegel, Nietzsche and Heidegger.

PHI 347  Topics in Philosophy of Literature 3-3-0
From the time of Plato’s engagement with Homer to the contemporary philosophical dialogue with poetry and the novel, philosophy and literature have had a rich and sometimes controversial relationship. This course will explore this dynamic interaction through the careful study of philosophically significant works of literature and related works of philosophy.

PHI 348 / POL 348  Topics in Social and Political Philosophy 3-3-0
This course will typically consist of a detailed study of a great work of Western social and political philosophy. Students will be expected to present seminars and do research on the text itself, the social and political context in which it emerged and its implications for all serious inquiry into questions of society and politics.

PHI 349  Topics in Feminist Philosophy 3-3-0
An introduction to feminist thought from the Enlightenment to the present, looking at some feminist discussions in ethics, theory of knowledge, philosophy of language, and philosophy of science.

PHI 352  Topics in Philosophy of Being 3-3-0
A detailed study of key themes in metaphysics and ontology, including topics like the nature of first philosophy, the nature of the philosophical God, the notion of Spirit and the character of our being in the world. Prerequisite: at least one course in Philosophy

PHI 353  Topics in the Philosophy of Knowledge 3-3-0
A detailed study of key themes in epistemology, including topics like the nature of a priori concepts, empiricism, scientific method, knowledge as self-transcendence and the self-withdrawal of Being. Prerequisite: at least one course in Philosophy

PHI 354  The Philosophy of Contemplation 3-3-0
When Plato said that “philosophy begins in wonder” he inaugurated a tradition in the West in which contemplation and the awe that accompanies it were elevated to among the richest and most sublime of human experiences. Here West joined East, which already had a centuries-old devotion to contemplation in the Hindu, Buddhist and Taoist traditions, among others. This course will develop not just a familiarity with the philosophical theories of contemplation but also cultivate precisely the kinds of contemplative experiences that draw us towards transcendence.

PHI 355  Analysis Seminar 3-3-0
An in-depth study of one of the major contributions to analytic philosophy (e.g. Strawson’s Individuals, Quine’s Word and Object, or Geach’s Reference and Generality). Prerequisite: PHI 204

PHI 357  Topics in World Philosophy 3-3-0
Explores one or more of the world’s great philosophical traditions, such as Buddhist, Taoist, Hindu, African and North American philosophy. Prerequisite: at least one course in Philosophy

PHI 359  Research Seminar 3-3-0
A senior seminar the focus of which is collaborative production of an original work based on philosophical exchange and reflection. Members of the seminar will gain experience in all facets of research, presentation and writing for publication.

PHI 3541 Advanced Studies I Topic: Philosophy and Death 3-3-0
In this reading course, we examine some canonical treatments of the subject of death from the ancient, medieval and modern traditions. Texts will include Plato’s Phaedo, Boethius’ Consolation of Philosophy, excerpts from Spinoza’s Ethics and from Heidegger’s Being and Time.

Pre-Law

Program Overview

The Pre-Law Minor and Certificate programs are designed to ground students in the concepts of justice, law, and equity, civic governance and responsible citizenship, while also building a knowledge-base in a wide array of related disciplines, such as literature, history, politics, and criminology. The program will also expose students to core competencies – such as problem solving, critical reading, oral and written communications, research, organization and time-management, leadership, and team-building – that enhance capacities for success in law school or other careers within the justice system.

This program is interdisciplinary and offers students the opportunity to develop and/or hone their skills in the areas of logic and critical thinking, argumentation and debate, time-management, and group dynamics. The program aligns with the vision and values of Bishop’s University, and seeks to enhance the mission to provide students with an exemplary undergraduate experience in the classroom and beyond. To develop these competencies, students will choose from a list of Humanities, Social Sciences, and other courses provided and will take one capstone course, to be offered annually during the Winter term. Participants should note that the program does not guarantee admission to law school but seeks rather to help in their success once admitted.

Course selection from a select list is based on LSAT criteria and disciplinary knowledge: Content, Reading Comprehension, Analytical Reasoning, Writing proficiency, and Logical Reasoning.

Programs

Pre-Law Minor
(24 credits)  MINPRL

For the minor, students will take two courses each from the Logical and Analytical Reasoning lists, three from the Reading and Writing categories, and the capstone course.

For the minor, double counting will be allowed on the same basis as the certificate and students may not take more than two 100 level courses. Double counting of courses between the certificate and a student’s major or honours program should be set at a maximum of two courses or six credits. To receive the certificate, students may not take more than three 100 level courses.
