

TECH LIFE

Exploring the impact of technology on society

	Left(s) in Crisis in Latin America: Context and Consequences                  Dr. Françoise Montambeault from the Université de Montreal will give this exciting talk that examines participatory democracy in Latin America including the role of social media.  Funding provided by the Bishop's Speakers Committee	Mon. Oct. 23                  8:30am                  Cleghorn Room
	The untapped potential of technology and open data: An entrepreneurial perspective                  Gordon Harling, CEO of Innotime Technologies and a passionate entrepreneur, will speak about the dynamic world of possibilities that exist around technology and open data today.  Co-hosted by 	Mon. Oct. 23                  6:00pm                  Cleghorn Room
	Unboxing Internet 2.0 “An intelligence officer’s point of view”                  With a focus on open sources and social media, seasoned information analyst - intelligence officer Slavimir Nikolic will speak to us live from Timbuktu, Mali	Tues. Oct. 24                  4:00pm                  Nicolls 1
	Secret Rules of Modern Living: Algorithms                  Ever wondered why your newsfeed picks the things it does or how your online shopping is fulfilled? From search engines on the internet to GPS navigation and credit card data security to even helping us travel the world, find love and save lives - algorithms have become central to modern life.                  Come and watch this fun and accessible documentary on what algorithms are and why they matter to your life. A question and discussion period will follow.	Tues. Oct. 24                  7:00pm                  Hamilton 305
	Storing Digital Information? How to Save Our Collective Memory                  The documentary “Digital Amnesia” reflects different views about preserving information to ensure that our current society leaves its mark in history and benefits future generations. Discussion to follow.	Wed. Oct. 25                  12:00pm                  Hamilton 305
	The Politics of American Internet Policy                  Two presentations on the implications of internet policy in the US:    US Policy on Trans-Border Data Flow and its Discontent  Dr. Michèle Rioux, Professor of Political Science, UQAM    US Internet Policy: Mercantilism disguised as freedom  Dr. Gilbert Gagné, Professor of Political Science, Bishop's	Wed. Oct. 25                  4:00pm                  McGreer 100
	DEBATE NIGHT at the GAIT: Consequences of Technology                  Come to The Gait and watch your Bishop's Debating Society and others debate side by side the merits and faults of technology! You can even participate in some lightning round of debating from 7pm.  Hosted by the BU Debate Society	Wed. Oct. 25                  5:30 pm                  GAIT
	Regulating the fastest traders on the market?                  In this open classroom, the increasing presence and implications of high-frequency trading, as well as attempts to regulate it will be discussed	Fri. Oct. 27                  10:00 am                  Nicolls 315