To quote my favorite musician, "In this great future, you can't forget your past". The pages within this yearbook hold the past of so many of us and it is the purpose and resolve of these pages to guard and preserve the experiences which I know all of you, as I, will remember for years to come.

This was my aim when I signed on to be editor in chief of the Quad. I wanted to create a tome of memories to take with me so I could look back with pride and remember what it was like to really 'Raise a Toast'. Thanks Alaina, Ashley and Dayna for your work on this edition of The Quad - your hard work, creativity and vision came together to make a product that any Bishop's student can be proud of.

To my fellow graduates, I wish you all the best with your future endeavors.

Non illegitimus Carborundum

Working on this issue of the Quad was a very fun experience. We wanted to capture Bishops in its entirety and I hope with this issue that has happened. I also hope that we captured the diverse community that Bishops is, the school that we all know and love. I hope that this issue is enjoyable to everyone who reads this book. With the student participation in this book it is original its own way as we all are. Enjoy the book and I hope it helps you relive those most memorable of memories.

This year's edition of the Quad is being approached from a different angle than those of previous years. We're trying to keep it more structured while at the same time trying to add more of a diverse look. We want it to be about the Bishops students and not just about a select few! We hope by having more participation and input from the student population we can give this year's yearbook the Bishops touch that we all know and love and make it the kind of book everyone could pick up and enjoy!

The Lady Gaiters!!

The Lady Gaiters were a new team this year: a new coach, a new team, and a new concept. The season began with a great 2-4 start and our pre-Christmas trip to Cuba brought our team even closer together with a successful showing against the Cuban provincial and junior national teams. As the season moved forward the team continued to build confidence and a connection that we hope will carry us through to Regina for the national championship in March!

The involvement and support for War Child from the Bishop's community has been astronomical this year. The Busk for Change and Bu's Got Talent combined raised over $2300.00 for children affected by war. The success of these two events is thanks to all the hard work by performers and the Bishop's War Child Club. Way to go Bishop's!
The War Child Club also organized BU's Got Talent which involved performers such as Renee Myers, Shawn Naylor, Kai Barker, Stephanie Isaac, Leela Holt, Bishop's Dance Club, Mike Dyriw, Mike Wighton, The Self-Ordained Professors, Melissa Legault, Ali Cant, and Chris Fraser.

- Peter Jarvis and Scott Potter performed an array of popular tunes for listeners outside in the QUAD!

The Bishop's experience is lacking without it's finest and most integral piece, the school song. Remembered and loved all over the world by those who have experienced it, or faintly remember experiencing it. Just in case you forgot the lyrics, here's a hard copy so you never forget how to..

We're conditioned to our fate,

We will stay here forever more

College Days will linger ever in our hearts,
Wearing gowns, raising hell and quaffing ale!
And we'll show espirit du corps,
As we watch the gaiters roar
On to victory!

So raise your beer mugs,

2008-09 started off with a bang for Student Safety. A brand-spankin’-new management team and a staff was the year’s first order of business. Convocation ’08 took most of our veterans away from the ‘Ville, but Frosh ’08 injected new blood into the team. Marshals continue to keep the peace between the students, the town, the government and the administration. Avis Car Rentals might pick you up, but Student Patrol will walk you home. It’s always an adventure working for Student Safety (if the walls of Safe Haven or the Gait could talk...) but it’s been a blast so far and like a fine wine, Student Safety is only going to get better. “Lassiez les bon temps roulez!” here in the Lennoxvgegus. Keep it classy, BU. Remember, Student Safety is here for you.

-Elizabeth Robichaud

Student Safety is a vital service here on campus. They make sure that you end up where you need to be on your late night stumbles home. They deal with ‘messes’, marriage proposals, and sub zero temperatures. So, next time you run into them, give them a hug and say ‘Thanks!’ because they really deserve it.

Message From the President

The SEED Portfolio is a one of a kind experience which provides students with a hands-on approach to investing. Within the program, we learn what it means to work within an investment team. Typically the team consists of 8 Portfolio Managers and 10 Research Assistants. This team is responsible for researching and interpreting the economy within North America and on a global level as well. After creating an outlook on the future of the economy, we develop and implement an investment strategy that we feel is suitable for the given environment.

SEED has been one of the most influential experiences of my life. Not only have I learned how to work successfully within a team environment, I have also been exposed to knowledge and information that cannot be accessed through use of the classroom alone. I feel honoured to be have been a part of the team we had this year and encourage more students to get involved.

Joining the Gender Equality Centre in my first year (when it was still the women's centre), I didn’t really know what to expect— I knew I was a young feminist who wanted to direct my activist energies somewhere, and figured this would be a good place to start. And what an amazing four years it has been! While members change from year to year, there is always a sense of community responsibility and dedication to improving campus life for all genders. From the Vagina Monologues to International Women's Day concerts and everything in between, the GEC has been a great place to foster respect for one another and make a tangible difference in the Bishop’s community.

In my three years at Bishop’s University I have been involved in various student groups. Once joining a particular student group one expands his/her group of friends and becomes more involved in the Bishop’s community. The Department of Economics has been a contributing factor to my involvement. The intimate relationship most economics students have with their professors allows students to become informed of activities, clubs and employment opportunities on a truly personal level.

As the President of the Bishop’s University Economics Society I have become highly involved in student affairs. I am directly involved in many initiatives of the B.U.E.S., such as planning fundraisers, organizing meetings, and developing weekly events. The Executive Committee of the B.U.E.S. and the individual members who contribute to its success have helped me develop my leadership and communication skills. I have been involved in many on campus activities and organizations, but the B.U.E.S. stands out as a character and relationship building activity.

Big Buddies is a club that partners Bishop's students with students from LES, the local elementary school to act as their mentor and friend. We meet on a regular basis for themed events that have included Winter Olympics, A Halloween Party, Willy Wonka and Snow Tubing. It attracts all kinds of Bishop's students, from those who want to get involved in the community, to those who love spending time with children to those hoping to one day work with them.
The BU Pride Alliance is a dynamic group of students that meets weekly to discuss LGBTQ-related issues and plan the swellest of events. Our mandate is to create a safe space for all individuals, regardless of sexual orientation or gender identity. Some of our favourite events include our regular movie nights and ever-popular Stoplight Party."

MIGRATION OF THE
Message from the President

How can I condense a whole year into a few paragraphs? Well, here goes…
We started strong, with Frosh Week 2008. Three hundred cheering Gaiters fans followed the football team up to McGill, where we walked all over the Redmen. Homecoming followed, and then came the first speaker in the Donald Lecture Series, which provoked and challenged us throughout 2008-2009. Halloween, many, many meetings, exams and holidays followed. In second semester, we worked to provide students with the best experience possible, making decisions regarding national lobbying, the structure of the SRC, and financial accountability.

Gaiters work hard and play hard, in the greatest of Bishop’s traditions. As always, we continued to give back to the community, with events like Trick or Eat, Charity Comedy Show, Fashion Show and the Blood Drives. These events raised money for causes both local and national, showcasing the entrepreneurial spirit of Bishop’s students.

Beer arrived in Doolittle’s prior to March Break, which represented a huge victory for students. No more wandering off campus to get a case, and the proceeds go right back to students.
We’ve worked hard, and it’s my hope that we’ve left this place in great shape for the future.

My sincere thanks to those who might otherwise go unrecognized: Tobin Howes, Katriina Sainthill, Mike Wighton (Frosh), Annis Karpenko (For everything), Neda Aminshariati (for supporting all of us with coffee), Joy Chandler, and the giants on whose shoulders we stood every day. Most importantly, thanks to the 1740 students who trusted us to do the best job possible. Throughout every challenge and opportunity, it was your input and interest that spurred us onwards. We have been privileged to work for you, and will forever remember the trust you placed in us.

Raise a toast, today and always!
- Mark Lawson

SRC President 2008-2009
Well, another year of Bishop’s is in the books. First off, I would like to thank the Academic Affairs team for their hard work and dedication to the job. Between class, SRC table, Senate and all its subcommittees (and of course keeping a robust “social” life) the Senators and I have been really, really busy.

How busy?

We reworked academic orientation. We brought out the exam schedule early. We provided a bookstore alternative for used books. We helped to launch the BU Student Speaker Series. We brought in academic credit for SRC. We reworked first year registration. We brought in speakers, held departmental potlucks, put on workshops and hosted the ever popular, Wine and Cheeses. And then we sat on committee’s. Library committee, timetable committee, research committee, nominating committee, committee, committee, committee...And that’s why I love it here.

It is rare that students have such opportunity to voice their opinions and concerns about their academic experience, like we have at Bishop’s. And it’s not just about having a voice in affairs, but also being able to actively participate in the administration and governance of the SRC and of the University is an unbelievably amazing learning experience that couldn’t happen in the classroom or at any other school. I would like to thank you all so much for the opportunity to represent you in the school and also experience that comes with it. College days will linger ever.

Duncan Horne

It's been a year of change in the SRC. The finances are back in order, we finally accomplished our goal of getting beer in Doolittle's and The Gait has been roaring along to it's best year yet, so it's time to come up with another project that'll make this SRC even better.

Thanks to my managers and all their hard work in making this year run smoothly and a special thanks to Annis for keeping us all in order.

Brad Henderson
- Director of Finance and Operations

The 2008-2009 academic year at Bishop’s University has been an exceptional one. It has been an absolute pleasure to be part of your SRC, from the SARs to the SECs, the Senators to the Corporation Rep., the Communications Manager to the Board of Directors and everyone in between, let me say it has been an absolute honour to work with and get to know each of you. A huge thank you to Allie MacLeod, Daniel Taggart-Hodge, Sarah-Michelle Hollands and Steven Amirikah—you have all done an exceptional job, and your work is incredibly noticed within the Bishop’s Community. Congratulations to all four of you! This year, the Department of Student Affairs has been hard at work to help better your Bishop’s experience, through committees, policies and advocating the student voice, the Department of Student Affairs has worked tirelessly to serve you. To the students returning next year, make your experience your own. Bishop’s University is the best undergraduate institution in the country; take advantage of all it has to offer. To the graduates, Gaiters Bleed Purple forever! Whatever your next step is, I know you will succeed and wherever the future takes you, I know you will make Bishop’s University proud—best of luck to you all. Raise a Toast!

Paige Marlow
Another year has passed, and a great one it has been! For those of you who don’t know me, my name is Ryan French MacDougall and I am your V.P. of Social Affairs. What does that entitle? It means I work for you the student body, by providing you with events that are appealing and diversified. Whether they are bus trips to sporting events, cultural affairs like Carnaval in Quebec City, the sugar shack, Blood Drives, and a comedy night at the Galt that starred hilarious comedians from Montreal to fund a local community center, we have done this for you.

The other aspect of my job is dealing with the numerous clubs we have around campus. In that respect I deal with club management in the sense of allocating budgets to clubs so that they can better provide their unique services. Kudos to all our clubs who stand for each of their unique causes, whether it be providing students with out of classroom opportunities in the academic world, or fundraising for the multitude of charities. The hard work many of you students do is often thankless, but I will simply say this. Thank you. You have shown the local community and various international organizations that even though we are small in numbers the difference we make in this world is large. Finally I would like to thank my Student Event Coordinators, who work tirelessly to provide events and represent you on the Student Council. In closing, this is my final year here at Bishop’s University and I would like to thank all of you for being part of my life, you have provided me with an experience of a lifetime and merci for allowing me to represent you. May we cross paths in the future, and never forget... we bleed purple for life.

Long live Purple and Silver!

Ryan French MacDougall
Speakers & Lectures
We're lucky enough at Bishop's to have students from all over the world visit us for a semester or two. Even though the time seems short, they will forever remain lifelong friends.

Student studied at Bishop's this year from Australia, Columbia, Spain, England, Germany, France, Switzerland, Japan, and many many more.!

Bishop's would not be the same without you.

We will miss you.
The teachers at Bishops are like no other. They take the time to sit down with students and make sure that they understand the material that is being presented to them. They also make sure that students are on the right track to obtain their goals.

“Thank-you for being here and making my job very interesting. Don’t forget about us”
-Dr. Bill Robson

"The Classics students at Bishop’s are wonderful - they take the courses out of real academic interest, they learn how to think critically about evidence, and they learn that hard work pays off, especially when they study Latin or ancient Greek. This enthusiastic yet critical approach plus the ability to work hard at something worthwhile are skills that will take them far in their careers, whatever they choose to do."

Dr. Catherine Tracy,
Chair of Classic Department

"Cheers Bishops Grads, We Love You!!"
-Dr Wickens English Department

"They also organize many social functions outside of the class room. Here Dr. Barker talks to some of his History students."
"I have never let my schooling interfere with my education..."
Mark Twain
"Education is what remains after one has forgotten everything he learned in school."
Albert Einstein

At Bishop's we're really great at uniting work, and play. By having departmental wine and cheese's, as well as Academic formals throughout the year we can celebrate, mix, and mingle with other students, prof, and staff to learn and work, at the same time.
I will be moving back home to Montreal and trying to pursue my career as a professional actor. Many of my friends from Montreal have started their own companies and I will most assuredly be knocking on their doors and giving them many phone calls. In the mean time I also wish to stay connected with the art circuit and try to sell some paintings. I am investigating the various art contests around the city and collecting applications to submit my artwork...and hopefully find a job at a gallery or museum...or any place that won’t suck my soul out. Watch out world, ‘cause here comes Rachel!

- Rachel Thompson

After graduating from Bishop’s, I’m taking on a position with...Bishop’s! I’ve accepted a one-year contract to recruit for the university. This is a place that’s given me an awful lot over the past four years, and I’m lucky to have an opportunity to give back. I look forward to bringing new students to Bishop’s, where they can meet great friends, study with thought-provoking profs, and learn to raise a toast!

- Mark Lawson
I'd love to be able to say I know exactly what I'm going to do once I leave this glorious bubble...but I would be completely lying through my teeth. I have no concrete plans for the next chapter of my life which is both exciting and terrifying at the same time. I think I'll settle down with the man of my dreams and start having babies. (Note: I give full permission to my friends to kidnap me because this is one thing I FOR SURE know won't be happening anytime soon.) All I can say right now is that once I leave Lennoxville, I'm going to wing it and see what happens because whatever direction I choose to go in, I'm sure I'll get an amazing experience out of it one way or another...
